

Model output fields are available from a wide range of model runs. The data typically consist of monthly mean particle number and composition as a function of size on the global 3-D grid. Higher temporal resolution files are also available. The results tend to cover odd months, but sometimes a full year, depending on the problem we were studying. Please enquire.